A large and influential meeting was held on Monday evening, in Bleecker Building, pursuant to the following call that appeared in the morning same place despotism on the terrone as these heentions mobe. Nothing is better calculated to disput our citizens with our institutions, than to have our magistrates in a we of such violators of the law.

Mr. Bogarr said that he had spent nearly all his life in the Ninth ward, and when anything was done to stab its reputation he felt it severely. The poople, he said, were the arbiters of this case, and it was for them to decide whether they would submit to the disgrace of having a prize fight in their ward,
He knew the puglist—a political ruffian, who nominated and elected officers—and if the man was allowed to retain this position, the members of the ward were Ninth warders no longer.

A VOICE—Faugh!

A Voice—Faugh!

Mr. Boeant—Aye, you may say faugh, but it cuts you to the quick. (Laughter and applause.) The speaker concluded by urging upon the audience to support the temperance ticket at the next election.

The President then introduced the Rev. Mr. Wanner, who proposed the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:—

1. Resolved, That the recent diagraceful fight in this ward owes its occurrence entirely to the sale of inquor, without which provocative to evil and crime no such cutrages upon the public peace and the public reputation, would be known in this commutation.

The best expression of our condemnation and abhorrence of all made evils, is to resolute our efforts to secure, by the inforcement of law, the entire suppression of this molific parent of vice and crime.

That it is the decided conviction of its meeting that if the officers in charge of the poce department had acted with ordinary energy and ecision, it is our belief that the policemen, in hom we have every confidence, would have saved a from this ruffiantly violation of law and order in midst, and the ward from the disgrace sicted upon it by the infamous outlaws residing pong us, for whom, it seems, there is no law nor insistment.

WARREN then read the following report:-

REPORT ON THE LIQUOR TRIALS.

ORLY-even persons have been indicted, eight on commit of the highth ward police, twenty-seven on commit of the highth ward police, and twelve directly by Alliance. A large number more are on the road, and the put through the Grand Jury in Angust. We had assurance from the District Attorney that these inments should be brought to trial on the first day of reptember term, and we hope for the same favor in the present District Attorney.

The Alliance has prosecuted fourteen persons for sell-liquor on Sunday. Four of the men have had trial, he railings and incidental decisions of the Justice, D. Clask, E-q., have been in our favor; but the final desire of all these cases has been postponed till the law is sustained, and the Sabbath protected. At the residues of the Court on these cases, about six hours lime has been consumed, and most of it in a tedious squeetioning of the witnesses on irrelevant points, attempts to prove that the rum shops were general-losed on the Sabbath.

Encompment of the Delevan Temperance Union (Outered) at Bergen, N. J. Yesterday the members of the Delevan Temper-ance Union, composed of colored individuals, cele-brated their twelfth anniversary at Bergen, N. J. An auspicious day was chosen for their celebration

An invitation was extended by this society to their colored brethren in New York, Brooklya and Williamsburg, but owing to some mismanagement the invited did not make their appearance at the Jersey & ty ferry, where a committee waited for them over an hour, and there not being any prospect of their friends coming, they were obliged to retrace their steps to the camping grounds.

About 12 o'clock the committee arrived on the grounds, their band, by which they were attended, playing in a jovial strain the air of "The Belle of Tennessee."

playing in a jovial strain the air of "The Belle of Tennessee."

The ascemblage consisted for the most part of women and children, there being but very few men present, and those all appeared on horseback.

A platform, covered with an awniag, was erected in the middle of the lot, around which were scattered in profusion little tents, containing all sorts of eatables, but no drinkables except cold water.

The whole afternoon was devoted to praying and lecturing on the evils of intemperance, and invoking all present to lend a helping hand in the good work, now sustained by Mesars. Greeley and Barnum, and a host of other gentlemen.

Owing to the heat of the sun the convention was obliged to adjourn earlier than usual, the place chosen for the affair being devoid of all shade, so that the amusement did not last as long as those present might have desired.

Sergeant Delong and officer Orpheus followed immediately after; I went into the front basement of 178 William street; I found the prisoner, Francis Fischer, and John Steiggersweld, now present, in the front basement; Fischer was packing some paper in a bale; Steiggersweld was on the right and opposite side of the basement to where prisoner was; I asked them what was the matter—who had been hurt? Fischer said he did not know what the matter was, at the same time continuing his work; I went into the yard, and found the deceased lying on the ground, about five feet from the back steps; she was lying on her right side; through her dressahe had her hand on her breast, and was moving us it in great pain; I saw she was a German; Sergeant Delong stooped down and asked who shot her; she said she did not know; I lett her and returned to the basement, and told the men that they must know who did it; Fischer did not answer; Steiggersweld made some reply that I did not understand; I asked what she was shot with, when Steiggersweld took the pistol now shown off some pille in the back part of the cellar and handed it to me; I again asked who shot deceased, but got no satisfactory answer; I asked if any stranger had a hand in it; they answered, no; Fischer made this reply; I then arrested both of them; I was there two or three minutes after the shot was fired; the only entrance to the yard was through this basement; I sent deceased to the hospital in a carriage; as we were leaving, John Stratton, the mater of the pisce, came in; I told him a girl had been shot there, and showed him the pistol; he claimed it, and said he had left it leaded, but took the cap off for fear of danger; he also said there was a small box of caps in a drawer in the basement which he found missing, and he did not know any one knew of the caps; he said the two men and girl worked for him, that she was very quite and industrious; I went to the station house and sent for an interpreter; Steiggersweld then told him that Fischer had shot the deceased, and t evidence. I asked the prisoner how the pistel went off; he said he had got a cap out of the drawer and fired it for fun; he said he had no idea it was loaded at the time.

John Steiggersweld, of No. 121 Third street, between First avenue and awenue A, sworn—I was at work with prisoner on Saturday about 4 o'clock, and on taking up an armfull of paper, the pistol was among it; I said "this is the pistol the boes has been looking for, for the last two days;" prisoner took it in his hand, cocked it and anapped it at me; I did not see a cap on it; he soapped it in this way twice in play; he said he would go out and frighten the girl with it, at the same time opening a drawer in an ole piece of furniture, saying "I will see if I can find a cap;" deceased was working in the yard at the time, and immediately after I heard an explosion and deceased scream; I went into the yard and me Fischer coming in; I said "what have you done?" he said "Oh! my God?" he had the pistol in his hand at the tim deceased was bleeding; I gave the captain of the police the pistol; the prisoner said to me in German, "for God's sake be quiet; I will say the pistol fell from my hand, and went off;" I never saw the pistol before, and did not know whether it was loaded or not; I do not think prisoner knew the pistol was loaded, or he would not have snapped it at me; the prisoner, deceased, and myself were all good friends together; after mapping the pistol at me, he tock the ram rod out and put it down the harrel; it did not go down; when I saw this, I pushed it away from me, saying I am afraid there is something in it; it was after this he want into the yard to the deceased.

Frederick Speirs, No. 176 William street, testified to hearing the report of the pistol, and seeing deceased lying bleeding in the yard.

Statement of Madeline Beal, a child ten years of age—I live at 21 Flm street; I had been selling some paper, and went into the yard to get a drink, and sat down by deceased, whilst I was there the prisoner came out and said, "Caroline, I

MONEY MARKET.

Tumpay, August I.—6 P. M.

The stock market opened and closed pretty flat to-day.

In Eric Railroad considerable business was transacted.

At the opening an advance was realized, but prices closed at a decline on those current yesterday. At the first Board, Illinois Central Bonds advanced 2 per cent; New York Central Bonds, 1; Indiana Construction Railroad 1%; Illinois Tun per Cent Stock, 1. Jersey City Loan declined % per cent; Nicaragus Transit, %; New York Central Railroad, % With the enception of Eric, the leading fancies were quite duil. The operations at the Board were principally for each. At the meant linard

The withdrawals from warehouse during the month this year amounted to $1,972,987, against $1,702,448 for the same month last year. The amount entered for warehouse in the month this year was $3,967,573, against

$2,080,908 for the same month last year. At the meeting of the stockholders of the Harlem Rail-At the meeting of the stockholders of the Harlem Rall-road Company, held to-day, a committee was appointed to investigate the affairs of the concern, to report at a future meeting. Considerable confusion existed through-out the session, and there appeared to be a strong oppo-sition to any immediate action in relation to the over-issued stock. A resolution passed authorizing the direc-tors to place transfer books in the office of the United States Trust Co. This is a good move, as it places this department entirely beyond the control of the officers of the company. We hope other companies will do likewise. The stockholders of the Harlem Company appear to have an opinion of their own, and are not so easily led by the board of directors as was anticipated.

For some days past negotiations have been going on between the representatives of the different parties in-terested, for the purpose of arranging and adjusting the difficulties under which the Parker Vein Coal Company are now laboring. At present the concern is literally defunct. Its mining operations have ceased, and its moveable property in the hands of the assignces is rapidly depreciating. Something should be done at once, if possible, to save the company from complete wreck, and the probability is that the negotiations now going on will result in a settlement that will give many of the stockholders all their stock cast. It appears that the whole issue of stock amounts to about 160,000 shares. It may be a little below that; but we put down that figure. That is, 120,000 shares more than the charter allowed. The present indebtedness of the company is put down at $1,125,000, of which $650,000 is reported to be due to O. P. Jewett. The assets of the company consist of 90,000 shares of stock of the Calcionia Coal Company, and $274,000 of the bonds of the Parker Vein Steam ship Co. It is, we believe, proposed that O. P. Jewett's claim against the Parker Vein Coal Co. be cancelled by the company's assuming the 120,000 shares of stock. His claim being $650,000, would be equal to about five dollars per share for stock. This will reduce the debt of the company to $475,000, to pay which it will have the assets named above. What could be realized on the sale of Caledonia Coal stock and Parker Vein Steamship Company's bonds might be applied to the liquidation of the company's indebtedness; but how far they would go would be very difficult to tell. With good management they might produce enough to take up all claims against the Parker Vein Coal Company. In that event, the com-pany would have its coal lands, amounting to between six and seven thousand acres, clear of all incumbrance, represented by 100,000 shares of stock. The nominal par value of this stock is $100 per share, but it would be ne cessary to reduce that, so that the original capital of $4,000,000 would exist. These propositions the new board of directors have had some time under considera-tion; but whether they have arrived at any conclusion or not, we have not been informed. We have not one word of comment to make relative to the matter. These are the facts of the case, and we leave it for those interested to act as they may deem best under the circumstances. At present the company is in a very bad way, and the enormous capital involved is not only inactive, but may become atterly worthless.

Prooklyn, August 1, 1854—To the Editor of the New York Herald.—Dear Sir—Being a practical mechanic, and having worked among iron and cannon for twenty four years, I feel confident, from what I have seen and experimented in guns of large calibre, that I can make a gun of wrought iron thirty (30) feet long, and five (5) feet at the breech, with a two (2) feetbore, that will be superior in strength and dorability to any gun that ever has been wrought, and I think that our government is very dedicient in guns that compare in size and strength with other governments. I propose to make a gun of the size as above for the United States, for which I will submit my plans and specifications, and subject it to all the ordinary tests as to strength, and accuracy in throwing shot that is known among scientific men. Yours, FRANCIS IEE, East Brooklya, L. I.
